Project: B-2597 - Barge shipment of Yankee Dryer

This 260,000 lb Yankee dryer was barged from from the Port of Houston, TX up the Mississippi river to the Port of Memphis, TN. The dryer arrived at the Port of Houston in a heavy lift ship where the securing was cut loose from the unit. Big John, the 1,000 ton barge crane, was contracted to lift the dryer from the ship's hold and transfer it to the hopper barge that was already waiting for the cargo. Once it was placed on the deck of the barge, it was secured to the deck and then set off on its journey to Memphis, TN. The Port crane in Memphis lifted the dryer from the barge after the lashing had been removed. The Yankee dryer was set along side the other units in storage at the port of Memphis.
